

A CALL Survey

Experience

1. Do you have any training in teaching CALL?
 Yes       No
2. How many years have you been teaching CALL?
 3 or less       4 to 7    8 to 11       12 or more
3. Which sentence best describes how you view yourself as an instructor in the CALL lab?
 Call is one of my strengths.
 Call is one of my weaknesses.
 I am adequate at CALL.
4. Do you have any training in developing CALL materials?
 Yes       No
5. Which technologies do you have experience using to develop materials?
 Word       Scripting languages (Javascript, Vbscript, etc)
 Flash       Programming languages (Java, Visual Basic)
 Html       Quiz Generators (CGE, Hot Potatoes, Quia, etc.)

Attitudes

6. Which sentence best describes your attitude to CALL labs?
 I look forward to lab days.
 I am ambivalent about lab days.
 I don't like lab days.
7. Which sentence(s) might help define your attitude towards the CALL labs?
 The labs are a good chance for student self-study.
 The labs are a good chance to teach with technology.
 The lab is a classroom with computers.
 The lab is great for students to do grammar practice
 The lab is an opportunity for students to explore the Internet.
8. Which of these sentences best corresponds to your attitude towards learning about new applications and using them in the Labs?
 I am not interested. There are already enough choices.
 I am interested, but there isn't enough time.
 I am learning about new applications and try to implement them.
 I am actively pursuing new technologies.
9. Which of these sentences describes your attitude to developing new CALL materials?
 I would rather not be involved in developing CALL materials.
 I like developing content, but don't want to deal with the technology.
 I like the technology, but don't want to write the content.
 I like working with the technology and the content.

Practice

10. Do you follow a regular routine when in the CALL Lab?
 Yes       No

11. Do you lecture or teach without using the computers when in the CALL Lab?
 Yes                       No
12. In the CALL Lab my students use outside websites to do English exercises.
 Always             Often             Sometimes             Rarely             Never
 work on exercises I developed and distribute digitally.
 Always             Often             Sometimes             Rarely             Never
 use my personal website to do English exercises.
 Always             Often             Sometimes             Rarely             Never
 use the exercises on the school's English website.
 Always             Often             Sometimes             Rarely             Never
 use the installed grammar programs.
 Always             Often             Sometimes             Rarely             Never
 use a typing tutor program.
 Always             Often             Sometimes             Rarely             Never
 use a word processor.
 Always             Often             Sometimes             Rarely             Never
 use internet as a resource for research or reading
 Always             Often             Sometimes             Rarely             Never
13. How would you define the perfect CALL session?
 You explain what to do at the beginning of class and students work quietly on assigned exercises.
 You explain an activity, have students do it, and then go over it with them.
 You utilize the technology to do activities that require communication.
14. Which one of these is the biggest hindrance to planning a successful CALL session?
 lack of good exercises that fit the curriculum
 lack of consistency in the materials available
 lack of centralized location for materials
 my own technology experience
15. Which one of these is the biggest hindrance to implementing a successful CALL session?
 technology is unreliable (internet or computers down)
 exercises that students find boring exercises that are too difficult or too easy for students students often getting distracted by the internet, email, or other computer application.
 student attitudes towards CALL
16. Which of these sentences best describes your practice when it comes to developing CALL materials?
 I never develop CALL materials.
 I sometimes develop CALL materials.
 I regularly develop CALL materials.
 I create a lot of CALL material.
17. Which of these sentences best describes your practice when it comes to developing classroom materials?
 I never develop classroom materials.
 I sometimes develop classroom materials.
 I regularly develop classroom materials.
 I create a lot of classroom materials.